INTERNATIONAL COLOUR DAY
ESTABLISHED BY AIC - INTERNATIONAL COLOUR ASSOCIATION

CSA International
Colour Day 2022
Event
Progress in Colour Education
March 20,
10.00 AM - 12.30 PM
AEDT on Zoom

For the Colour Society of Australia's International Colour Day 2022 event, six of the ten committee members of the ISCC/AIC Colour Literacy Project will speak on different aspects of colour education. The Colour Literacy Project is a joint initiative of the American Inter-Society Colour Council (ISCC) and the International Colour Association (AIC), formed to explore new approaches to colour education as a multidisciplinary system of connections between science, art, design, industry, technology, and culture (<https://colourliteracy.org/>). The five presentations will be:

Itten's Seven Colour Contrasts – a Critical Review (Keynote) by CLP Co-Chair Dr Robert Hirschler (Hungary), co-authored with Dr Andreas Schwarz (Germany)

The Dimensions of Colour Today by Dr David Briggs (NSW)

Understanding Colour: Teaching the Science of Colour by Dr Robin Kingsburgh (Canada)

Seeing the Colours of Joondalup by Dr Paul Green-Armytage (WA)

Implementing a Bottom-Up and Top-Down Approach; an Update on the ISCC/AIC Colour Literacy Project by CLP Chair Maggie Maggio and Luanne Stovall (USA)

This online event is free, but booking is essential at <https://coloursociety.org.au/event-4698172>. Full details of the presentations and speaker biographies are available at the same link. The deadline for booking is midnight AEDT on March 18, but please note that this event may be booked out well before that date. Successful registrants will receive a confirmation email immediately and a second email with the Zoom link on March 19. Recordings of the presentations will be available to CSA members on the CSA website.

The Colour Society of Australia (estd 1986) is the Australian affiliate of the International Colour Association (AIC) and holds events and conferences throughout Australia aimed at continuing education in all aspects of colour.
